ANNUAL REPORT For the year 2013-2014

An entire, country is survived as a contributive partner is global prosperity India with its vast resources, human and natural, is trying to consolidate its Post-independent area development as stung hold fast to face global market place challenges. However there are major problems of unemployment, underemployment, poverty and health concerns. Our trust played a lead role in implementing health, education and development care in and around the rural sectors of Kanyakumari District. its activities are summarized hereunder.

ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION

Even peaceful and health environment of rural farming areas are getting exposed to hazardous pollutant chemical fertilizers and pesticides are observed on a ever increasing rate. They pollute the farms and environment in rural areas. The treat organized a tree plantation camp at Aathikadu Village with the support of the volunteers of our trust. More than 100 trees were planted. The trust had taken the efforts to impart education on the use of organic fertilizers and bio-pesticides.

ADOLESCENT GIRLS EMANCIPATION

We have a group of adolescent girls for whom we organize education programmes the years to come we wish to be intervention agents to promote school attendance rate increase, especially of the adolescent girls. During the year there were consecrated efforts made in the direction and girls were encouraged to keep up their regular classroom attendance. Parents, community members and the campus staff gave good support to our endeavors. During the academic year 3 rural schools were visited by our volunteers enrolling support to the project. Female infanticide, violence atrocities against women, granny basting / bashing etc. were themes of significance in their educational sessions. Lives of great women, women's legal rights and their role as wage earners, women as political decision makers etc were discussed in their sessions.

MEDICAL CARE

Medical care being the major sector for attrition to our trust. We pick up the helpers and needy poor people and give them health checkup and eye checkup in Govt. Medical college hospital, Asaripallam at Nagercoil. Spectacles were given to them at free of cost.

EPILOGUE

It is planned to strengths the existing projects impressing the scope for greater participation for women. The Hands of fire ministries trust is grateful to the beneficiaries volunteers and the general population for all the co-operative the trust had received from them.
